| that only fully boned legs can traverse.                           |          |         |
| Firstly there was that Rhino to investigate.                       | 41m59s24 | 0m49    |
| Then there was the large Eagle to worry about.                     | 42m48s14 | 0m15    |
| Then I returned to my human, after all I had saved him from a      | 43m03s15 | 0m09    |
| Leopard. Only one smashed finger.                                  |          |         |
| I still cant find that Rhino (it had passed through about          | 43m12s10 | 1m11    |
| 10 mins earlier).  |          |         |
| He must cope with bad road conditions.                             | 44m23s16 | 0m28    |
| He must be very careful of those excessively unfriendly Lionesses  | 44m51s13 | 1m51    |
| And there are strange neighbours to put up with, like Grey Duiker. | 46m42s02 | 1m08    |
| 4. Winter Highveld Grasslands.                                     | 47m50s13 | [4m38]  |
| Sonnedal, near Johannesburg, dry grass and only Jackal and         | 47m55s12 | 1m29    |
| small buck around.   |          |         |
| 30 kms inside Zimbabwe, near Beit Bridge, very dry, a bit stony,   | 40m19s16 | 3m09    |
| with thin veld grass cover.  |          |         |
| 5. Kalahari, Botswana.   | 52m28s16 | [5m22]  |
